

ICI Appoints Liz White Partner, Senior Consultant

Accomplished Core Processing Advisor Joins ICI Consulting

McLean, VA, November 2, 2012- ICI (International Consulting, Inc.), a firm that provides financial institutions with core processing consulting services, announced that Liz White has joined the firm as a senior consultant.

“For many banks and credit unions, it has been years since they have examined their core processing costs and overall operations strategy. With her Fiserv, Pitney Bowes and NCR background, Liz White will assist ICI clients in evaluating their core processing and ancillary system options. Liz will also help clients implement leading edge technologies like mobile deposit / banking or teller capture,” said Greg Schratwieser, ICI President and CEO.

“Liz will support financial institutions by surveying their core processing operations and examining recent vendor invoices. She will build ROI analyses and Strategic Recommendation Reports that will eliminate unnecessary costs and build action plans to maximize operational productivity and profitability in the operations area,” added Greg Schratwieser.

Liz White has nearly 25 years of financial industry experience which included marketing core and check processing systems for Fiserv and NCR. Liz’s background and unique set of skills will enable her to consult with clients on core and payment processing operations throughout the U.S.

“In this unsettled economic period, all bank and credit union executives are looking for sound core processing and ancillary system strategies that will reduce overall costs. Over the past 18 years, ICI has maintained an impeccable service record among its 250 clients and is known for objective advice,” said Liz White.

“I look forward to offering core processing business case, strategic planning, vendor evaluation and conversion services to ICI’s new and existing clients. I am proud to add my resume to the current 300 years of cumulative financial experience at ICI Consulting,” added Liz White.
