

St. Petersburg, FL, April 5, 2022: ICI Consulting, a bank and credit union core processing advisor, announced today that Thom Gresak has joined the firm as Senior Vice President. Thom brings many years of Core Processing, Financial Institution, and leadership experience to ICI. Thom has spent 38 years in the financial services industry working in various sales and leadership capacities, including 18 years at BISYS/Open Solutions and nearly 14 years with Fiserv. Prior to joining ICI, Thom was a Fiserv VP and Regional Sales Manager.

“I’m extremely excited to join ICI family. I look forward to being part of the ICI team and helping our clients establish high-quality and cost-efficient core vendor relationships. The core vendor relationship is one that is complex and costly; it impacts both the customer and member services and the overall financial institution performance. Joining the ICI team with the depth of 800+ years of experience in the financial industry was the right choice for me. I look forward to serving many of my friends and acquaintances from over the years in the industry,” said Thom.

“Thom’s client focused reputation and deep financial industry expertise make him an excellent addition to our team,” said Greg Schratwieser, President and CEO of ICI Consulting. “He has a vast amount of core vendor experience and we are delighted to have an SVP of his caliber join the company. We expect Thom to apply his expertise to benefit our current and future clients,” continued Schratwieser.
